Dr. Minnie L. Steckel

She loved us; she loved our school.

During her twenty-two years as student-counselor for Alabama College, Dr. Minnie L. Steckel faced and conquered many problems for "her girls". Dr. Steckel was more than a student counselor; she was a friend—a friend who shared our joys as well as our sorrows.

The well being of Alabama College students was her first concern always. Though her death brought a great loss and vacancy to our campus, the thoughts, aspirations and works of Dr. Steckel will ever be an integral part of Alabama College.

PSYCHOLOGY

DEDICATION

Along the road of friendship and loyalty, has come one of our best loved and most respected friends.

He plays one of the most important roles in the things that make Alabama College what it is; for while we sleep, he is on duty as night watchman. Friendly, kind, helpful—these are only a few of the many adjectives which can be used in describing him. He is a friend to one and to all, and knows each girl on campus. Even though his duties call for night work, he is often around during the latter part of the day, talking and laughing, and making more friends everywhere he goes.

Because of his understanding, his generosity, and his deep devotion to Alabama College, our love and dedication go out to our friend ——

MR. C. H. ADAMS

Miss Alabama College

Sue Dobbins

"Miss Alabama College", one of the highest titles that can be bestowed upon a student, is an embodiment of all the traits that make up a well rounded and successful college life.
She is truly typical of the spirit of
Alabama College
Sue Dobbins, twenty-one year old senior and president of her class, topped all of her honors when she was elected by the upperclassmen as
"Miss Alabama College".
As a freshman, Sue
was president of her class, and has since earned membership in the National Collegiate Players,
the Theater Council, Zeta Phi Eta, Pi Kappa Delta, and Lambda Sigma Pi.
Along with these honors, Sue was selected as a representative of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges,
and was chosen as a Senior class favorite.
Famous on campus for her friendly smile and versitile talents, Sue has been a natural leader in activities at Alabama College
since her first few weeks on campus.

Our President

Officially inaugurated only this year,
Dr. F. Edward Lund
has become a part of the heart of Alabama College through his love for our school
and his capable administrative abilities.
His office is always open for student guidance or
for just a friendly chat.
His scholarliness, his reserve, his winning grin,
and his firm belief in Alabama College
have gained the respect
and admiration
of the student body, who find in Dr. Lund,
not only a President,
but a dependable
friend.

. . . . Dr. F. E. Lund

DEAN OF STUDENTS

MISS IVA GIBSON

Dean Gibson, a newcomer to our campus, has already become our close friend and counselor, and has capably handled her complicated task of housing the students.

THE DEAN

RICHARD POWERS

The responsibilities given to Dean Powers must often seem overwhelming. Yet, through constant effort and sincere friendliness, he fulfills his duties as Dean of Alabama College.

THE GOVERNOR

Better educational facilities has been one of the aspirations of Governor Persons during his administration.

Governor Persons is president of the Alabama College Board of Trustees.

GOVERNOR GORDON C. PERSONS

BUSINESS MANAGER

MR. LEE A. BARCLAY

Despite rising cost and often limited funds, Mr. Barclay has shown great skill in managing our economic system and supporting the advancement and improvement of our campus.

Student Government

The Student Government of Alabama College, based upon the Honor System, is one of the finest student governing systems on college campuses.

Through the capable leadership of our governmental officers, each student becomes an integral part of student government, with a realization of belonging and of being needed. The responsibility rests with the individual student to uphold the honor and high standing of Alabama College.

STUDENT SENATE

AURELIA MORGAN
President

The Senate, as the legislative division of Student Government, revises and clarifies policies of the school as set forth in the student handbook.

The Senate puts up convocation flags.

The Art Department offers a wide variety of interests to the student. Endeavors are carried on in crafts, ceramics, lettering, art education, interior and dress design, life, and commercial arts.

Participation in this field gives the student both aesthetic and professional training.

MISS KENNEDY

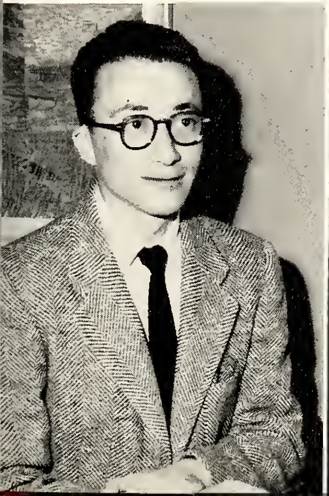
MISS PURYEAR



Foreign Language

MISS STOCKTON

The Language Department offers elementary and advanced courses in French, German, and Spanish. Customs and political histories of these countries are studied by majors in foreign languages and bring them closer to life and civilization in foreign lands. Often times, foreign students enrolled at Alabama College aid in the classes teaching their native tongue.

MISS EDDY

Economics

Three phases of study in home economics train the student for a future in vocational, educational, or institutional and retail economics. Students may obtain valuable experience from such facilities as the nursery school, laboratory school, cafeterias and the home management house. Retail students spend nine weeks of their senior year gaining experience in the large department stores over the country.

MRS. CARLISLE

MISS BRASWELL

Head of the Mathematics Department at Alabama College is Miss Mamie Braswell, who has her A.B. degree from the University of Alabama and her M.A. degree from Peabody College.

Mathematics

One of the most exact sciences, mathematics, offers training in fundamentals, as well as more specialized studies of geometry and statistics. Mathematics further developes the students' abilities in logic and their appreciation and exactitude.

This does present a problem.

Senior majors gain experience through teaching.

CLASSES

CLASSES—the four pillows upon which the growth and traditions of Alabama College rest.
Along the brick roads of Alabama College
the students carry themselves and their school into a future of intellectual, social, aesthetic
and spiritual progress.
It is the cooperation and sharing of interests
and goals,
despite individual loyalties,
which has developed our student body
into a coordinated family
group.

SENIORS

As the brick roads of learning draw to a junction for the Senior Class of 1954, the seniors pause
to recall the many paths over which they have travelled—through College Night and Crook Week,
Founders Day, and marching in the dark morning hours,
and residing in the sacred domicile of Tutwiler
under the protecting guidance of Mrs. "D".
As the seniors follow the roads of the future,
they leave to the underclassmen the responsibility of keeping the spirit of A. C. aflame.
Although the iron gates
close behind them,
their love will always remain.

JUNIORS

With almost three years of college behind them,
the juniors are striding along the road
of dignity and stability
that will be required
for their senior leadership.
Their confidence has not been unbroken, however,
for always looming before them has been the apprehensions of their trial of Seniordom "Crook Week" Converting Ramsay into the Junior dormitory has presented problems but lots
of fun and happiness this year,
as have preparations for Junior Week-end and the Junior-Senior
Banquet.
One of the outstanding characteristics of the Juniors is their work and play as a class
Unit.

SOPHOMORES

Within the gates and trodding more confidently
over the bricks of progress,
the Sophomore Class has flowered into an outstanding class spirit and enthusiasm.
One of their most energetic moments this year
was climaxed by an unscheduled, midnight
march on the "solemn seniors of Tut"
Also included in their frolicking
year have been
parties at the camp house,
the Sophomore-Senior
"mummy" party,
and Tea house antics.

Orientation, exams,
unfamiliar faces, many new adjustments . . .
. . . despite all the skepticism about college life
brought about by their trials,
the Freshman Class quickly melded into the spirit and the "oneness" that makes Alabama College.
Parties, dances, College Night, and many other student activities during the past year have brought to the Freshman Class
a warm feeling for life at college . . .

Elite Night? Never heard of it!
Oh, so that's when the beauties and favorites are chosen - - -
But why call them Elite?
Well, now I understand - - - the Elite are the outstanding members of the Senior Class
. . . . in each of the respective fields of study.
Yes, I know that you also present the members of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. This year,
you had a presidental
inauguration,
too—and of course
College Night
dear to the heart
of every Alabama
College Student.
Well, how about
some more details—of a visual

DR. F. Edward Lund
Seventh President of Alabama College

The Lunds

The INAUGURATION

On October 18, 1953, Dr. Franz Edward Lund was inaugurated as seventh president of Alabama College, replacing Dr. John T. Caldwell. The week-end festivities included a formal dinner, a concert by Irene Jordan, a garden reception at Flower Hill, and was climaxed with the academic procession preceeding the installation. Forming the procession were members of the Board of Trustees, the Faculty and Administration of Alabama College, dignitaries representing Colleges and Universities all over the United States, and members of the Senior Class.

Procession of dignitaries

The main address was presented by Dr. Francis P. Gaines, president of Washington and Lee University, who delivered an inspiring message on the values of education, saying "Character is an inner force that enables one to carry out a worthy resolution when the mood in which the resolution was born has passed away."

COLLEGE NIGHT

College Night is the largest and most important student activity that takes place on the Alabama College campus.
A time when all students, divided into two sides,
the Purples and the Golds, work to give the best all student productions
they are capable of producing.
The leaders, along with twenty-two cabinet members,
direct all phases of theater work that are necessary for good productions.
Members of the side work along with leaders and cabinet members, while cheerleaders
keep up the spirit
and pep of all, as they work
day and night
for
"the best
College Night
ever."

Leaders
SUE DOBBINS, GEORGIE GINGLES

The PURPLES

"Sue and Georgia up on the stand
All good purples just a clapping their hands—shouting Hey Purple Leaders . . ."

Songs of loyalty and enthusiasm can be heard as the sides support the four girls they have elected to lead them during the 1954 College Night.

Cheerleaders
BOUNDS, TAYLOR, MILLS, BARTON

Cabinet

The GOLDS

"Oh those Golden Leaders,
Oh, those Golden Leaders, their the best pair in the land . . . . "

As the members of the two Cabinets direct the development of the productions, Cheerleaders strive to maintain a lively spirit of honest competition.

Leaders

IT'S A FACT

All children think in a naive way—that there's nothing they don't know! A land of fanasty, a land of dreams—the land of a child's imagination, is a hiding place to go.

ABOVE: "I chooses that I should be first"
BELOW: "It sho is powerful medicine."

"If the wise council of youngers will accept my humble assistance."

"She's the wisest one of all."

"Finesse my deor. It would have been o much better woy to play that trick".

The GOLDS

"Oh, excuse me. The door bell".

"Caramba"

"Well I think that with my new star my latest productian will be a hit".

"There's certainly very little of her hidden now".

Present
DOUBLE DILEMMA

"Oh, if I just had a dish-washer". Those words were spoken by Dora, the dumb housewife, to her friends.

After an afternoon of bridge and watching T V the girls' imaginations ran wild and they imagined themselves as millionaires at a premiere and after-theater party. The telephone rang and brought them back to reality. Dora won a dish-washer. Overjoyed she called her husband who came home to find confusion with the tax collector preparing to tax the dishwasher and the finance company after the television. After much juggling the husband gave the dish-washer to the finance man and the television to the tax collector, solving everything, leaving nothing.

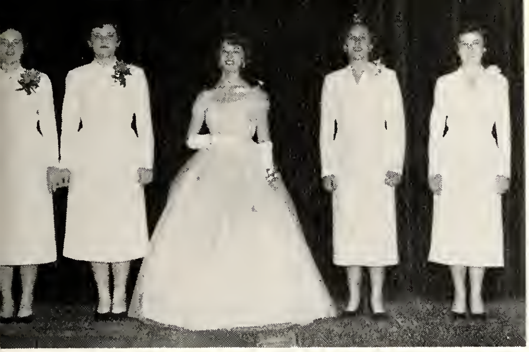
Dedication of ANNA IRVIN HALL.

MISS FRANCES NUNGESTER
Alumna-of-the year

Miss Frances Nungester, one of the outstanding educators in Alabama, now principal of a Decatur Elementary School, and 1952-53 president of Alabama Education Association, was presented at College Night as Alabama College's Alumna-of-the-year for 1954.

Miss Nungester came to Alabama College after two years at Athens College. After receiving her AB Degree in history here, she received her MA Degree from Peabody College.

The class of 1949.



ALICE JANE and Our Leaders.

DR. PAUL C. BAILEY

College Night is dedicated each year to one who is respected and most honored by the student body. Dr. Paul C. Bailey, Professor of Biology, was selected because we appreciate the things he has done and want him to know how well he has served us and what a good example he is for us.

Despite Dr. Bailey's numerous activities in research and state and national organizations, he always has a grin and a friendly "hi", for every student and is eager to lend a helping hand with problems.

The decision of the judges is in favor of the PURPLES.

HONORS

You work—you study—you read—you write and then there appears in front of your wondering eyes
a slip of paper which says - -
"You are cordially invited to membership in - - - !"
Alabama College is proud of both its locally and nationally
affiliated honorary fraternities.
We are proud of our students chosen to represent us in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.
We are given an incentive to strive for the day when we are initiated
and can proudly claim membership in any of our numerous honorary organizations.

The ALABAMIAN, Alabama College newspaper, endeavors to bring before the student body current college events, student government functions, and frank editorials concerning major administration and student controversial issues.

The ALABAMIAN is published twice a month and distributed to students, faculty and administration, parents, and other Colleges and Universities over the nation.

The recently-initiated "Tower Talks" column in the ALABAMIAN aims toward presenting topics of current interest to students in an honest and straightforward manner.

CROOK

I'm tired!

The ridiculous juniors parading the fashionable Cariapsis-Navensinctum-Zenathra outfits were indeed a source of amusement for the "honorable seniors" and underclassmen.

For two and one-half days the endless search for the sacred "Crook" went on.

Really Lucy, it looks better this way.

"Yes most honorable".

Call to arms.

WEEK

Finally after an exasperating search for it in the summer heat—the "Croak" was found—beneath six bricks on the president's drive. Then came the big event—Croak Court—where the lowly juniors were tried, and then Seniordom, the cap and gown, the biggest honor, was bestowed upon them. What an experience . . . . but it was worth it.

MOTHER: YOU LOVE YOUR CHILDREN

Then give them a chance to learn to play some kind of musical instrument and sing. It will enable them to enjoy life better and make a greater success as music will prevent crime. We will rent a piano and allow 6 months rent to apply on the purchase of it. We will sell all kinds of musical instruments — anything you need for your home. Write to Birmingham, Alabama for our catalogues and prices or call at one of our branch stores.

ON YOUR GRADUATION

Today we are printers of the yearbook of your school.

Tomorrow as you seek your future in the professions, industry and commerce we at Paragon hope to serve you with the essential Printing and Lithography you will need in the pursuit of your career.

Many of our best customers came to us through friendships formed around the annual planning table or from former grads like yourself who first saw our work in their annual.

With Best Wishes
